YOUR IMPACT

ENGAGE. DEVELOP. INSPIRE.

Rick helps people and organizations amplify their greatness to produce positive results, increase engagement, and develop impact.

Combining his talents as a keynote speaker, a talent development pro, and a musician and singer/songwriter, Rick brings his unique approach and positive attitude to everything he does.

He's spent the better part of the last two decades helping to shape award-winning talent and leadership development programs across multiple industries, most recently in a tech company consistently recognized as a Great Place to Work.

Along the way, he has built a reputation for his energy, music, and refreshing delivery that leaves audiences raving and - more importantly - inspired with action items that can be immediately implemented to produce change.
